

Suburban Harley's 30th Anniversary Party

Here's another example of a busy schedule, not knowing of an event early enough and to many things going on at the same time. I was able to swing in to Suburban HD for their 30th anniversary party early Friday afternoon en route to Minnesota for a prior engagement. Even though it was early I could tell that this was going to be a good time.

The last time I was at Suburban, I was there with a friend that was getting some repairs done. Located on a nice tree lined street, you get a small town personal feeling with a big city flavor. While there I had a chance to talk to Joan Houpt (Owner) who showed me a picture of when they first opened up shop. Talk about a change in buildings. Shortly after, about 5:30 I had to take off.

I would like to thank Chrissy for getting me the following info.

Friday July 8th 1,500 people came out to set off the Celebration. We only planned to go until 9pm but the crowd got the Ozaukee Jam Band to play one more set and they continued to rock the lot for another hour or more! Saturday before the doors even opened the lot was filling with Harley enthusiasts! The first band Knock On Wood performed on the lot at Noon. At 3pm we closed down Main Street and rolled out the main stage for Lash and Oil Can Harry. This was a celebration that brought the whole town together! All proceeds from the Beverages went to the Thiensville Fire Department and the food vendors were all local restaurants. We did not charge vendors and we had them all; from tattoos to massages, to clothing, jewelry, crafts, parts, even a Harley Davidson Auction Suburban Style! There was even a burn out pit for a tire frying experience like no other, not to mention the Night Bike Custom Light Show! With two classes and six prizes it was quite the sight to see! This was defiantly a party to Rival all others! There were no accidents or disputes, just good food, awesome music and great friends all together to celebrate 30 years of Suburban Motors Harley-Davidson. Oil Can Harry Closed Down the show with a thick crowd of thousands and no room for parking; this was defiantly the place to be for one raw party that went off without a hitch.

If your in the area, stop in at Suburban and talk to the good people there. 139 N. Main St Thiensville, WI 262-242-AHOG or check out their website at www.suburbanharley.com
