I'd like to start out this month by saying hi to all the riders that I met during the 110th from around the world. For example I met a couple guys from Seattle that rode in all the way on their Big Dog Canines. Good job on that, I remember being young and agile. LOL They were at the Quaker Steak Bike night in Madison along with hundreds of other riders just soaking up the nights activities of music, wings, beer and more wings and beer. I stayed Wednesday night at the Magnuson Grand Hotel in Madison since it's a bikercoupons.com advertiser and they are a little closer to big Bend for the next day's Industry Party at the Road Guardian Compound than home. Got to support those that support you, RIGHT!! Next was a group from Brazil that were staying at the hotel, and after talking to them a bit found out they flew in, rented bikes at a dealer and were on a weeklong venture of the great state of Wisconsin. I gave them a few tips on a route and places to stay, figuring I have some knowledge in this area. Next day in Milwaukee at the HD Museum, I ran into three brothers from Guatemala. I didn't understand a lot of what they were saying, but I have a feeling we were on the same page that day. The universal language of Harley Davidson all around us that day.

Next Kenn and I headed up to ARJJ's on 92nd and Capitol. (You can read more on this in Kenn's column on page 9) for some wings and brotherhood. We got both in great quantity. Thanks to the Double Eagle MC for their hospitality and for making Kenn and I feel right at home. Many riders now-A-Days have no clue what it's about to be a true Brother. A special thanks to the hostess Brenda who I forgot to say thanks and good bye to.

After I left Milwaukee and the 110th, I broke down and wasn't able to return back after Thursday. Hope all had a great time. If you have any pictures of the fun I missed, feel free to send to me a picture or two for a collage of the 110th Rally I would like to put together. A big thx in advance.

Veterans Day is November 11th. This issue is chalked full of Veterans events to honor those that served for us as Americans. I just realized that us is the U.S. And all those that served did so with one belief, and that is because America is the greatest place to live, work, play and raise a family. There is no place that I would rather reside. As I have said in the past many years, support any parade/event that your area had and make sure to thank at least one veteran for their service. With what has been in the news lately, please support our veterans rights to visit any memorial that has been erected in their honor.

I do want to touch briefly on the "biker hit and run in new York" that has been going viral in every source possible. I have my own thoughts but what really is irritating me is the fact that the news and media in general has been calling these guys bikers. THEY ARE NOT BIKERS... They are sport bike riders that seemed to get out of control for doing what they shouldn't be doing in the first place. Bikers ride in an orderly formation and for all the time I have been around the lifestyle, I have never witnessed a "Biker" attack someone in front of their wife and kid. This to me is plain old thugary. I am betting that a good amount of these riders were there to cause some kind of disruption, But that's just my opinion..
